Sept 2013 - Current

- I am currently working on Voya's Enrollment process website.
 - I am building the site using a Backbone/Marionette framework. The site is also using Grunt, JSPM (for ES6), Bower, Foundation 5, and Handlebars.
- I worked on Ascena Retail Group which was simultaneously building sites for four sub brand e-commerce websites for.
 - I worked on websites for Dressbarn, Maurices, Lane Bryant, and Cathrines.
 - The front-end used a Backbone framework and the back-end uses JSP and Ajax to render content.
 - The sites were built to support IE8 and any modern browsers.
- I developed a front-end web application for an internal project called Dropcast.
 - I build a front-end CMS web application for an internal start up project. The web app uses HTML5, CSS3, Backbone, Marionette, Sass, and AJAX.
